WORDS FROM THE CHAIR

*Alain CADEC
Chair of Committee on Fisheries*

Dear Colleagues,

Dear Friends,

Our Committee will meet on Wednesday 21 March with a number of interesting issues for debate.

First of all, we will vote on the multi-annual management plan for the North Sea. This plan is the second one to be put in place after the adoption of the Baltic Sea management plan. Multi-annual management plans are of utmost importance for the efficient implementation of the Common Fisheries Policy. They are tailored to each sea basin individually and offer a long-term perspective to the fisheries sector.

Two other management plans will be discussed during this PECH Committee meeting, namely the plan for small pelagic stocks in the Adriatic Sea and the plan for demersal stocks in the Western Mediterranean.

We will also stage an interesting public hearing entitled “Encounters between science and management in fisheries”. Management measures in the fisheries sector are based on scientific opinions, which enable an adequate decision-taking, in particular on the establishment of TACs and quotas. This hearing will help us to better understand the whole process of how these decisions are taken, starting from the scientific opinion until the decision on a management measure is taken.

Alain CADEC

FISHERIES NEWS IN BRIEF

EUROPEAN COMMISSION

News - Press service

Ending the EU-Comoros fisheries deal (15/3/2018)

MEPs backed plans to end the EU-Comoros Fisheries Agreement in a vote, due to the Comoros' involvement in illegal, unreported and unregulated fishing.

The EU Commission proposal to terminate the agreement followed problems with piracy and the Comoros' failure to comply with the Regulation on illegal, unreported and unregulated fishing (IUU). This is the first time that the EU has terminated a fisheries agreement due to this reason.

The EU-Comoros fisheries partnership agreement ran from 2005 to 2011 and then was tacitly renewed for 7 years.

The main shortcomings leading to the decision to denounce the agreement with the Comoros were:

- the Comorian authorities' flag of convenience policy;
- evidence of illegal fishing activities by the Comorian fleet;
- the national authorities' poor or non-existent monitoring and control capacities; and
- the Comoros' outdated legal framework for fisheries.

MEPs gave their consent to the termination of the fisheries agreement with Comoros by 624 votes, to 3, with 25 abstentions.

Western Mediterranean: a management plan to fortify the fishing sector of the region (8/03/2018)

A multi-annual plan to bring more stability, transparency and sustainability to western Mediterranean fisheries.

The European Commission proposed a multi-annual plan for fish stocks in the western Mediterranean Sea. The proposal covers demersal fish stocks, i.e. fish that live and feed at the bottom of the seabed, and bring a significant income to the fisheries sector in the region. According to the latest data, it is estimated that in 2015, French, Italian and Spanish vessels landed around 100.000 tonnes of demersal fish, valued at €675 million. Catches for these stocks have significantly decreased by around 23% since the early 2000s. At this rate more than 90% of the stocks assessed would be overfished by 2025. Without the collective pooling of effort foreseen by this plan, around 1.500 vessels would be at financial risk by 2025. Today's proposal aims to restore these stocks to levels that can ensure social and economic viability for the fishermen and the more than 16.000 jobs that depend on it.

Main elements of the proposal include:

- Setting fishing targets for the most commercially important demersal stocks: hake, red mullet, deep-water rose shrimp, Norway lobster, blue and red shrimp and giant red shrimp.
- Simplifying fisheries management under one main regulatory framework. The plan will be coordinated at EU level and apply for all trawlers operating in the region. Each year, on the basis of scientific advice, the Council would decide the maximum number of fishing days, also referred to as allowable fishing effort, for each fleet category by Member State.
- Reducing fishing activities in the first year of the plan in line with the scientific advice, given the worrying situation of most demersal stocks.
- Restricting trawlers from operating in sea beds up to 100m deep, from 1 May to 31 July each year, to reserve the coastal zone for more selective gears. This will protect nursery areas and sensitive habitats, and enhance the social sustainability of small-scale fisheries.
- Establishing regional cooperation among France, Italy and Spain. Provisions for the landing obligation and technical conservation measures could be put forward by the Member States concerned, in close collaboration with the fishing sector.

This proposal, with its long-term approach, creates more stability and more transparency as the three Member States concerned would jointly adapt current fishing targets to sustainable levels through the Council. It also ensures a consistent approach with other EU multi-annual plans, especially with regard to the recent agreement reached by the European Parliament and Council on the North Sea plan.

The Commission's proposal is now submitted for discussion to the European Parliament and the Council of the EU.
